

URBAN REVOLUTIONS

AFFORDABLE LUXURY

REVOLUTIONISE YOUR THINKING

Urban Revolutions has transformed how we view the humble duplex with new high-quality designs that deliver the 'wow' factor. Historically, duplexes have been used as an investment property, but these projects have been designed to be enjoyed for life.

Urban Revolutions has targeted the new range toward owners who want to have a supplementary rental income, or a flexible home that can be adapted as their family grows. Through innovative planning and high-end finishes, the duplexes offer a luxurious lifestyle at an affordable price.

With land sizes decreasing, the company made sure the designs could be constructed on narrow lots, without sacrificing on space indoors. Generous room sizes and high ceilings give the impression of extra space, while plenty of natural light has been incorporated to give the homes an airy feel.

One of the main concerns for Urban Revolutions was designing duplexes that receive an abundance of light, regardless the solar orientation of the property. A central courtyard in the middle of each home ensures the sun's rays penetrate the living spaces during different periods of the day.

The issue of noise between units was another challenge that Urban Revolutions was able to overcome. High-quality acoustic amenity is guaranteed with a Hebel (aerated concrete) party wall system, which offers a better acoustic rating than concrete or brick. Whatever your reason for choosing a duplex, Urban Revolutions has got you covered.

Specialising in luxury residential homes and rural estates, Urban Revolutions builds up to 12 homes a year, focusing on the northwest, north shore, and northern beaches of Sydney. Established in 2004 by Russell Garnett, Urban Revolutions undertakes bespoke design and construction of new homes and landscape projects.
